

The Innovation & Collaboration Centre (ICC) is the University of South Australia's startup incubator.

The ICC engages with the community through the delivery of community events, workshops and programs which draw on the research and professional expertise of UniSA and our partners, to support the generation of new startups and the growth of existing companies.

The ICC is headquartered in Adelaide and has a regional centre in Whyalla, South Australia.

Improving the lives of separating families

BENEFITS

- More collaborative parenting
- Improving communication between parents
- Simplifies the process of sharing documentation with government agencies.

BACKGROUND

Ohana is an organisation focussed on co-parenting solutions for Australia and the wider world. Ohana was founded by a single parent Ilka Stone, to encourage more positive shared care arrangements for her children. After exploring many different avenues, it was clear that utilising modern day technology to change the way parents communicated was the most effective way to support as many families as possible.

TECHNOLOGY

Ohana app is designing an application to help co-parenting families to connect and stay organised, partnered with education and support.

The application will include features such as:

- A shared calendar
- Messaging capabilities
- Kid's information bank
- Parent's profile
- Photos/videos

POTENTIAL MARKETS

Ohana hopes to be in the hand of every co-parenting family around the world.

PARTNERING OPPORTUNITIES

Ohana is seeking opportunities to speak with organisations that support separating families and co-founder(s) that are passionate about effecting positive change to the lives of co-parenting families around the world.
